Regarding Trump's promise to leave the US when he loses the upcoming election:

He's currently out on bail for multiple felony convictions and can't leave the county without the court's permission.

After he gets out of prison, it'll be up to his parole officer.

Everyone must get out and vote. There must be a huge win margin for this election

A grand jury has indicted Ohio police officer Connor Grubb on murder charges for the shooting of Ta'Kiya Young, a 21-year-old pregnant Black mother who was killed in a Kroger parking lot last August. Her unborn child did not survive.

Part of this officer's punishment should be to have to sit with the family of the deceased and listen to them talk about the person the officer murdered and look at pictures and videos of them when they were alive.

I understand what you intend with making him face what he's done, but that would be really cruel to the family of the victim and probably more punishing to them than him. Doing community service in those communities harmed by policy brutality might be better. Really depends on how much of a danger he is to those communities.

Can you say “lynching?”

Shop lifting is not a death sentence.

>Following the indictment, (Police Chief John) Belford released a statement saying that they will now begin the disciplinary process for Grubb.<
This happened a year ago. They're just now starting the disciplinary process because Grubb can't carry a firearm while he's under indictment.
You can't reform this.

The social media company discontinues its CrowdTangle tool, which researchers have used to track misinformation. Amid fears of election interference, lawmakers have urged Meta to keep it running.

Meta has been bombarded by academics, researchers, politicians and regulators about a tool called CrowdTangle, which most people probably haven't heard of. It's been used to investigate the spread of violence, political disinformation and false narratives on Facebook and Instagram.

On Wednesday, Facebook's parent company Meta will cease to support CrowdTangle, a data tool that allows researchers, journalists, and other observers to uncover disinformation and misinformation trends on the social network. CDNpoli defenseone.com/techn...

Social-media firms are lowering defenses to foreign disinformation campaigns, researchers warn “Against this backdrop, Meta decided to kill one of the best tools that civil society had to monitor and report on the hate speech and election interference that is almost certain to proliferate on its platforms,” said Brandi Geurkink, executive director of the Coalition for Independent Technology Research.

A judge “should participate in establishing, maintaining, and enforcing high standards of conduct, and must personally observe those standards so that the integrity and independence of the judiciary will be preserved, and so that public confidence in the integrity of the judiciary will be promoted.” 22 NYCRR §§ 100.1 and 100.2(A). This Court has been consistent that it welcomes “zealous advocacy and creative lawyering” (People v. Trump, 208 NYS3d 460 at 3, citing to Application of Giampa, 147 Misc2d 397). However, counsel has been warned repeatedly that such advocacy must not come at the expense of professional responsibility in one’s role as an officer of the court.

With these fundamental principles in mind, this Court now reiterates for the third time, that which should already be clear – innuendo and mischaracterizations do not a conflict create. Recusal is therefore not necessary, much less required. “On the facts before us, we conclude the judge’s impartiality cannot reasonably be questioned based on the judge’s relative’s business and/or political activities, and the judge is not ethically required to disclose them.” Advisory Comm on Jud Ethics Op 23-54 [2023].

As has been the standard throughout the pendency of this case, this Court will continue to base its rulings on the evidence and the law, without fear or favor, casting aside undue influence.

Defendant has provided nothing new for this Court to consider. Counsel has merely repeated arguments that have already been denied by this and higher courts. Defense Counsel’s reliance, and apparent citation to his own prior affirmation, rife with inaccuracies and unsubstantiated claims, is unavailing. As such, Defendant’s motion is again DENIED.

The above constitutes the Decision of this Court.

AUG 13 2024

ENTERED,

Hon. Juan M. Merchan
Acting Justice of the Supreme Court
Judge of the Court of Claims

NOEL J. MERCHAN

NEW via

@lawofruby

: Judge Juan Merchan has now denied Trump’s third motion for Merchan’s recusal, which argued that Kamala Harris becoming the presumptive Democratic nominee — and Merchan’s daughter’s prior work on her behalf — changed the calculus. Merchan disagreed.

Not only was he given the OK over a year ago by an advisory panel on judicial ethics, he notes, but the motion was made 48 days after the deadline for post-trial motions. ...

gtconway3dg

1habout an hour ago

... But the real nail in the coffin as far as Merchan was concerned? Trump offered nothing new.

Instead, he “reiterates for the third time, that which should already be clear — innuendo and mischaracterizations do not a conflict create.” ...

gtconway3dg

1habout an hour ago

... And finally, while renewing his pledge to base his rulings on the evidence and the law, “without fear or favor,” Merchan’s pique with Trump’s counsel, whose prior affirmation Merchan calls “rife with inaccuracies and unsubstantiated claims,” is clear.

Here's a link to the three-page decision:

ATTENTION GAY MEN OF HUDSON, NY:

Start cat-calling all male National Grid construction workers on Warren Street until they become so uncomfortable they have no choice but to quickly finish the job and get the hell out of town. More 😊😊> instagram.com/p/C8z...
copyright 2024 Mark Allen (article popped up when I tried to just get the above copy-and-pasted to this page)

The disorganized and haphazard National Grid construction in town is beyond ridiculous at this point. The construction workers, who clearly have no feasible plan from National Grid, are far too comfortable and indifferent while ruining the personal and professional lives of many hardworking taxpayers in Hudson. For the past year they've made our lives a living Hell. It's time to return the favor, using good-old reliable HOMOPHOBIA. Here's how, gay men of Hudson: 1. Whistle, discreetly wink at, and openly cat-call all male construction workers using suggestive, graphic terms and lurid innuendos. Get creative (they're laying pipe, filling holes and sucking air out of hoses, the sexual harassment slurs practically write themselves). 2. If they respond in any way, double-down, even louder. 3. If they ask you to stop, tell them they wouldn't have worn those, "tight-ass jeans and sexy boots unless they wanted it." Remember: they secretly love it. They're begging for it! Once that shuts them up, keep doing it. 4. Bring large 1 to 10 scorecards to rate their asses, biceps and crotches while they work. Be brutal. Tell them they're a 5, but you'll make it a 6 if they, "drop the attitude." 5. If they threaten you, call the police. Tell the police they are the ones harassing you. Make it a performance. Cry if possible. When the police leave, start back up again. 6. Leave flowers and boxes of candy (and poppers and lube) at the worksite

NBC News: In an economic address on Friday, Vice President Harris will call for imposing the first federal ban on corporate price gouging in the food and grocery industries.

The policy would set "clear rules of the road to make clear that big corporations can't unfairly exploit consumers to run up excessive corporate profits on food and groceries," the Harris campaign said in a statement.

FOR PLANNING PURPOSES RELUCTANTLY

August 15, 2024

***MEDIA ADVISORY***

TODAY: Donald Trump To Ramble Incoherently and Spread Dangerous Lies in Public, but at Different Home

TODAY at 4:30 p.m., Donald J. Trump, loser of the 2020 election by 7 million votes, will hold another public meltdown in Bedminster, New Jersey.

Date and Time

Thursday, August 15, 2024 at 4:30 p.m. EDT.

Venue

Not a battleground state

Preview

Not so fresh off NABJ, Florida, and Twitter glitches, Donald Trump intends to deliver another self-obsessed rant full of his own personal grievances to distract from his toxic Project 2025 agenda, unpopular running mate, and increasing detachment from the reality of the voters who will decide this election.

These remarks will not be artificial intelligence, but they certainly will lack intelligence.

Banning abortion, raising costs on families, confusing basic facts, cutting Social Security and Medicare, blocking border security, and being publicly unstable, unfit, and unwell will not help his struggling campaign for president.

Tune in for the same old thing.

Florida lawmakers propose public smoking ban that could impact Amendment 3

By Jason Delgado Tallahassee

UPDATED 5:48 AM ET Aug. 16, 2024 PUBLISHED 5:52 PM ET Aug. 15, 2024
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — A bipartisan trio of Florida lawmakers is proposing a statewide ban on public smoking.

The proposed ban comes as Florida voters weigh Amendment 3, a constitutional amendment that would legalize recreational marijuana.

The ban would prohibit public smoking statewide and would cover all types of smoking, including cigarettes, cigars and vapes

Sarasota Republican Sen. Joe Gruters is spearheading the proposed public smoking ban, alongside St. Petersburg Democratic Sen. Darryl Rouson and Light House Point Republican Rep. Chip LaMarca

If approved by voters, Amendment 3 would allow adults 21 and older to purchase, possess and consume recreational marijuana. The amendment, however, caps the purchase and possession of marijuana at three grams. All constitutional amendments require 60% voter approval to pass.

MAGA and the media are not the boss of Kamala Harris.

Trump has never actually answered a question the press has asked, so this whole argument is moot.

Couldn't care less. I don't care if she goes the whole campaign without answering questions from reporters.

She doesn't have to do one interview or press conference until these so called journalists ask Dumpy about that $10 million dollars he received from a foreign gov't. Until then- idga f if she talks to the press

If you ever get to Japan and you happen by the Hiroshima Peace Memorial Museum, you can view the preserved walls where shadows of human beings are literally burned into the concrete. Shots fired in drive-by at entrance to JBSA-Lackland in ...SAN ANTONIO (AP) — U.S. Air Force security guards exchanged gunfire with someone who opened fire at an entrance to Joint Base San Antonio-Lackland early Saturday, according to a spokesperson for the base.

No injuries were reported after the guards returned fire at a passing vehicle at a base entrance around 4:30 a.m., public affairs chief Stefanie Antosh told the San Antonio Express-News.

It was not known how many rounds were fired, how many shooters there were, or what their motive was, Antosh said.

"We don't know what, if anything, started it," Antosh said. "But it wasn't an active threat to the installation, and there is no active threat to the installation."

Antosh did not immediately return messages from The Associated Press for more information.

I'm a female veteran who had a VA counselor in Alabama tell me I didn't have a real disability because I wasn't visibly disabled. He refused to send me for mental health care. I ended up seeing a private therapist for the time I was there

I'm not even a little bit surprised. I hear that same story from nearly every female vet I encounter.

Has anyone else noticed a..... jealousy/resentment vibe from some civilians? I can't exactly put my finger on the right words but my pension is a burr to some people. No missing limbs or bullet holes so.....

I definitely feel like there's a lot of people looking for an excuse to say fuck the troops. Maybe I'm wrong.

stonekettle

Oh yeah. That.

Wanna see some real resentment, park in the Reserved for Veterans spot at the local big box. Heh heh.

Vance is the kind of veteran who thought he was too good to be in the service. Nothing but contempt for every Marine around him, who he considered stupid losers who couldn't get a real job. Vance was only there to get the GI Bill, so he could get that law degree and become somebody.

You meet these guys in the service. You can always spot them.

When they get out, they spend the rest of their lives talking shit about the rest of us. Hell, I got a former shipmate doing it to me right now.

BTW, have you heard what Trump recently said about Medal of Honor winners?

stonekettle

Of course I heard about it.

So? How is that any worse than anything else he's said about veterans? Or worse than the alleged LIBERAL woman and her shitty liberal supporters who 2 days ago on this very platform said that majority of us veterans are sad broken insecure people who spend all day comparing their service to each other like some sort of dick measuring contest?

Trump has nothing but contempt for veterans, but he ain't the only one.

Yeah, I heard.

kegbot62

Sorry, you just hadn't commented on it yet and I was wondering. I don't know why but it got me madder than anything he had said before and I was only an Army Reservist. You wonder when this shit will reach critical mass and it never does. Pisses me off.

the.actual.brian

1h about an hour ago

All that means is, someone, or some lifeless group of 4-Chan trolls, has been mass reporting your posts, trying to get you banned, and while the posts themselves didn't trigger the AI moderation, the volume of reports looks concerning.

Also, I can't like, so, ♥.

meidas_societyschild

1h about an hour ago

I immediately hide any comments from trolls and block them. I also block any MAGA troll that others make me aware of. I do not engage with them at all.

Nonetheless, I am unable to stop all of them.

I wish social media would do more to regulate them than going after those of us who simply want to have space to show up and share our views.

the.actual.brian

1h about an hour ago

These are not the vocal ones and they're not really MAGA.

They're incels from 4-chan, here to do nothing but cause trouble because they lack efficacy on their lives.

They feel powerful if they do things and then something happens because nothing in their lives has mattered so far.

They'll decide to target people in chats on 4-chan and then they attack people with reports until they get banned or they get normal content removed, then they post pics and brag.
